

SECURITY SHOWCASES

In addition to the more traditional retail merchandising display and function, many cannabis retailers can't just order basic showcase fixtures and be ready to serve their customers. Due to dispensary regulations, showcases that display cannabis products must meet many strict state guidelines including the security of the product both during and after business hours.

Higher Environments, a division of Stylmark, offers a line of security enhanced options, meeting targeted price points, while incorporating shutter system security. These features allow the product to be kept in the showcases after hours, hence saving time and money as staff do not need to arrive early or stay late to merchandise the products into the showcases.
